Ohio State Beekeepers Association
November 4, 2017 – Plain City, Ohio
Tolles Career Center - 7877 US Highway 42 S - Plain City, OH 43064

The Ohio State Beekeepers Association is holding its annual Fall Conference at Tolles Career & Technical Center in Plain City, Ohio. Based on past attendance, and the central Ohio location, we anticipate attendance of over 450 beekeepers. Our powerhouse line-up of guest speakers includes: Dr. Jonathan Lundgren, Meghan Milbrath, Dr. Reed Johnson and others.

Tolles Career & Technical Center is our continuing meeting location for our Fall Conference. This location offers accessible parking, large classrooms, large room for lunch, and a huge hall for vendors. This facility enhances the conference experience for participants and vendors and will provide a location where we can continue to grow.

We are also excited to include honey judging this year at the OSBA Fall Meeting. Enter your honey and win bragging rights for your honey!

A large selection of vendors will also be there with a variety of bee supplies for sale. (Attending vendors will be listed online as they confirm their reservation). Remember to pre-order your items and save on shipping costs.

Registration Fees

$25 - OSBA Member Pre-Registered

$35 - OSBA Member at the door. (Cash, Check or Credit card accepted at the door)

$35 - Non Member

$10.00 - OSBA Guest (Spouse of children under 18 with paid OSBA Member)

Online registration open until October 24th at www.OhioStateBeekeepers.org
(Credit Card or Paypal accepted online. Credit cards will be accepted the day of the event.)

Mailed registration must be postmarked by October 24th

Honey Judging Event

The 2017 Fall Conference will feature open honey judging. Attendees will be able to observe the judging that takes place throughout the day. Enter your honey and win prizes!

Due to the volume of entrants last year, we will have two judges this year: James Thompson and John Grafton.

Rules:

- Open to OSBA Members only.
- Entries must be pre-registered.
- One entry per category per household.
- There is no cost to enter the honey contest.
- The number and type of container required varies by category. (See the specifications in each category below).
- Entries must be turned in during registration on the day of the event.
- Prizes will be awarded at the closing session at the end of the day.
- Entries may be picked up after the closing session.
- Any entries not picked up after the closing session will become property of OSBA to be given away or disposed of.
- All decisions by the judges are final.

Categories:

- Extracted Honey Light (includes water white, extra white, white, extra light amber): Three 1# glass gamber or queenline jars
- Wax: ½ to 1#
- Flavored Granulated Honey: Three wide mouth glass containers ranging between 12 oz to 1 ½ pounds.
- Gift Baskets: Maximum of 12 pounds, and at least ¾ of the items must be produced by the beekeeper.

Prizes

- First Prize: Ribbon and $20 (one awarded in each category)
- Second Prize: Ribbon and $10 (one awarded in each category)
- Best of Show: Rosette and $20

Honey Testing

What plants do Ohio bees visit to make honey? Bring your honey to contribute to The Ohio State University research.

The Honey Bee Lab at the Ohio State University wants you to bring your honey for pollen analysis to the Fall Meeting. Drs. Reed Johnson and Chia Lin will isolate pollen from your honey and analyze the pollen under the microscope at the conference so you can learn what flowers your bees were visiting when they were making the honey you harvested. Additionally, all honey provided will be analyzed over the coming year using DNA sequencing to more precisely identify the flowers that are most visited by bees in Ohio.

If you want to participate in this research and want to have your honey analyzed at the OSBA Fall meeting just follow these steps:

1. Bring at least 2 oz. of honey collected from a single apiary any time in 2016 or 2017.
2. Drop your honey off at the OSU Bee Lab table. We will transfer the honey to our own container and return the bottle or jar and remaining honey to you.
3. Fill out a short anonymous survey that will ask you the location of the apiary from which the honey was collected, the approximate dates you added and removed honey supers and your best guess as to the flowers bees were visiting to make the honey.
4. You will receive a unique code that will be used to communicate the results.

We will work through as many honey samples as we can during the OSBA meeting and post pollen results on a board for you to check. Please note, we will not be able to process all honey samples provided to us at the meeting and we will be working through them on a first-come first-served basis.

Pollen analysis is time-consuming and we'll probably only get through the first 5-10 samples at the meeting. Results following the meeting may take a year to produce and will be published in the OSBA quarterly newsletter.
